Youth Lock-In at 2013 Annual Meeting

How can youth make an impact on the world right now and what does our Christian faith and still-speaking God have for youth in this time and place?

Come and find out!

I'd like to invite all youth from rising 6th graders to graduating seniors to participate in the Conference Youth Lock-in next Friday and Saturday, June 14th-15th with the theme "For Everything There is a Season and a Time for Every Matter Under Heaven!" The lock-in will feature exciting activities, relevant discussions, and games with other youth from around the Conference, emergent worship with the Praxis band, and a time to meet with Rev. Geoffrey Black, the general minister and president of the UCC.

This lock-in takes place at the annual meeting for the Southeast Conference and the $40 registration (subsidized by the Conference) includes all catered meals and activities. We start on Friday with registration at 11am; lunch begins at noon. We'll end with closing worship with the rest of the Conference and be done by 3pm on Saturday afternoon. You can register and pay online by clicking here and selecting "Lock-In" from the drop down menu.

Youth should bring a bible, sleeping bag, toiletries (toothbrush, toothpaste, deodorant, etc), pajamas, a change of clothes, and any medications they need.

Please forward this to parents and youth in your church and around the Conference.

Looking forward to seeing you at the Annual Meeting!
